Cinven completes acquisition of synlab

1st October 2015

Cinven has today completed the acquisition of synlab, one of the largest European operators of medical diagnostic laboratories, headquartered in Germany. This follows the completion of the acquisition of Labco, headquartered in France which, combined with synlab, has created the only truly pan-European clinical laboratories business operating across 35 countries and undertaking more than 400 million clinical tests annually across Europe.
